

DBLTV Announces Winners of the Inaugural “Gain the American Dream” Scholarship
DBLTV gives back to the community through academic scholarship and financial literacy.

Los Angeles, May 15, 2017: On April 10th, 2017, Mr. President Marks, owner and operator of DBL Tycoon Vision, announced the winners of the organizations initial scholarship at a special ceremony held at the Hyde Park Miriam Matthews Branch Library in Los Angeles, California. Participants in the scholarship contest were required to submit an essay that finished the statement: “If I had the opportunity of having financial help I would...” Among many well-deserving contestants, DBLTV was able to choose the following three students from South Central Los Angeles to award with scholarship funding to pursue their post-high school education:

- 1st Place ($500): Asia Mills, Saint Mary’s High School (Class of ’17)
- 2nd Place ($250): Carl Nicholson, Venice High School (Class of ’17)
- 3rd Place ($100): J’Lin Washington, View Park High School (Class of ’18)

Asia Mills, 1st place winner of the contest, will have her essay published and will be a featured author in Mr. Mark’s new book, Gain the American Dream: Guiding the Youth to Financial Freedom Through Generational Wealth & Credit, proceeds of which will go directly to the 2018 scholarship event. Regarding Asia, Mr. Mark’s believes “This one scholar has affected and impacted her own local community through empowering the youth to be competitive and take upon the leadership role of entering the essay contest today. It’s only right that she impacts the youth around the world and shares her story.” Sponsors of the event included: Supreme Prints & Designs, Salon Source Beauty Expo. My Dad is Just a Barber by Donald Conley, and Pucker Up Lemonade, J&B Popcorn.

Though this marks the first edition of DBLTV’s scholarship contest, it will not be the last as they are already preparing for 2018’s event, which will be titled “DBLTV Presents...The Asia Mills 2018 Essay Contest”. In regards to next year’s contest Mr. Marks states “With having each winner from the previous year as the namesake for the following years’ contest, we are positioning each individual to hold themselves to a higher standard of positivity and be recognized as a leader in their community.”
